

Terms & Conditions for Secondhand Items Bought and Sold

All items to be in a good re-sale condition.

We will accept any equestrian items, country clothing or footwear. (Subject to display room and quantity of similar items). Should display room not be available the goods will go on a waiting list and will be displayed as soon as room becomes available.

No payment will be made until goods are sold at which point a small advertising fee will be deducted

For this small fee, your goods will be displayed in the shop for 3months. After this time you will have the option to take the goods back or we re-advertise at a lower price. If after six months the goods remain unsold you can collect them with no charge, otherwise they will become the property of Nags Essentials.

We reserve the right to advertise the goods at our discretion on our website, should they meet the set requirements. The company will endeavour to display your goods subject to room and quantity of same items

We cannot accept any liability for the goods. Any problems arising from the sale of the goods will be directed to the person we have on record and they will be fully liable for any faults or wrong description.

All goods accepted for sale will have a numbered label and a tear off portion will be given to the seller. Please keep this safe as this is your receipt and will be required before any payment can be made should your goods be sold. You will also need to produce the receipt to retrieve any unsold goods.

Nags Essentials cannot be responsible should the company suffer fire , flood , force majeure loss or damage and the goods are no longer suitable for sale.

Nags Essentials can accept any liability for any costs, expenses or claims for compensation.

No returns accepted.
